Coquitlam Order Picker License

Coquitlam Order Picker License - Order preparation operation or likewise called order picking as it is more usually known is a method used in warehouse operations and consists of workers referred to as order pickers. The order picker's task is to collect and take articles in particular quantities in order to accomplish the customer's orders prior to shipment. Order picking is an easy warehousing process. The efficiency in which this particular task is completed can be directly related to a supply chain's productivity. Hence, order picking is amongst the most controlled logistic processes. Order picking falls in the category of the warehouse management system.

There are some specific types of order picking. The main kinds include: wave picking method, pick to box method, piece picking or picker to part method, zone picking method and sorting systems method.

The pick to box method comprises the order picker filling the box with the things from his or her station. The box then moves to other picking locations until the customer order is done. In this particular method, there is no movement of the order picker workers. In the wave picking method, the order pickers move around to be able to collect the necessary products for numerous orders. The piece picking or picker to part method is similar where the order picker or pickers move to gather the items required but for one order only.

There is no movement by the order picker in the sorting systems method. Rather, products are brought to the orderpicker by an automatic system like for example an automatic storage system or a conveyor system. In the zone picking method, each order picker is assigned to one particular zone. They are responsible for just realizing order picking within this specific area.
